

Dr. Carolyn Kuchera is an Associate Professor of English at UNM-Gallup, where she has taught courses in composition and literature since 2012. Dr. Kuchera received her PhD in American Literature from the University of New Mexico in 2011. Her most recent publications are "Poetry and Protest: Simon J. Ortiz's writings on the reservation border town of Gallup, NM." Interdisciplinary Humanities (Fall 2019): 61-72 and "Simon J. Ortiz and the Power of Recognition" in Journal of the Southwest (publication pending).